Our manufacturer of Peanut Butter is the leading roaster of in-shell peanuts in the United States. From these roasted peanuts, the Company produces and markets almost anything having to do with a peanuts, including peanut butter, in-shell bagged peanuts, canned gourmet peanuts, nut butters and Valencia Peanuts.

They are uniquely qualified to bring you the best peanut products because of their fully-vertically integrated and specialized approach to the peanut market.

Starting the Cycle – the manufacturer’s peanut company sells peanut seed to the best American farmers. These farmers are contracted to grow peanuts and provide the raw farmer stock back to Company after the harvest.

They provide Grower Support, working closely with the farmers to ensure plant nutrition and the proper crop protection is applied.

Shelling – The Company then receives delivery of millions of pounds of raw peanut farmer stock. This stage is known in the peanut industry as “shelling”.

Production – The finest quality raw products are then sent to the final manufacturing process to be roasted and turned into one of the finest lines of peanut products in the world.

We can provide branded or private labeled products in a variety of retail package sizes, and we can provide bulk peanut butter in large containers, drums and totes for in-market repackaging or for use in food preparation.
